

TACMED INSTRUCTOR LE ONLY

HOSTED BY: 88 TACTICAL

OVERVIEW

---

The Tactical Medicine (TacMed) Course for Law Enforcement Instructors is an intensive 2-day, 20-hour program that integrates live-fire and tactical medicine exercises. Our curriculum aligns with the Principle Guidelines of Instruction set by the Committee for Tactical Emergency Casualty Care (TECC). It covers essential aspects of tactical medicine, including the use of basic trauma kits, treating hemorrhages, chest trauma, and other critical injuries.

On the first day, students complete the Basic TacMed Course (Medical Module Only) to familiarize themselves with the curriculum. The second day involves teaching assignments where students present specific topics, including firearms skills and drills, demonstrating and directing these exercises on the range.

All teach-backs are evaluated, and shooting drills are scored with a minimum standard required for passing. Attendance alone does not guarantee certification. Successful students will receive a copy of the course outline, PowerPoint presentations, videos, and TECC guidelines.
