OVERVIEW

This two-day training course provides participants with a comprehensive understanding of undercover narcotics operations as they relate to UC/CI rescue. This course will focus heavily upon situations where agents are at risk inside a vehicle but will also include open air and structure rescue techniques.

The course will incorporate real-life case studies and supporting documentation. The training will incorporate mission planning and risk mitigation, personnel selection, common language, and equipment requirements necessary to establish a reliable rescue or cover team element.

Participants will learn about strategies of vehicle assaults to secure and rescue the UC/CI from the inside or around the vehicle. Students will participate in scenario-based training throughout the course including force on force scenarios.
