In Collaboration Will Host a Three (3) Day Conference:

Medicolegal Death Investigations

Dates: June 8-10, 2021

Location: University of Nebraska Omaha
College of Public Affairs & Community Service Bldg.
Room 101

This NO—COST conference will explore forensic anthropology, environmental reconstruction of post-mortem events, and distinguish between foul-play from alterations caused by other factors. Instruction includes crime scene investigations, firearm and toolmark criminalistics, entomology, toxicology, technology in the courtroom, and laws pertaining to death investigations. Other topics will address first responder issues trauma, and working with families on homicide victims.

Intended participants include: medical, state/federal/tribal law enforcement, prosecutors, legal/court personnel, judges, victim advocates, probation/corrections, educator's, mental health and other allied professionals.

We hope to accommodate as many people as possible to this. UNO is the hosting site and has the capability of hosting nearly 300 people face-to-face (depending on the COVID situation), other options include a hybrid of going with social-distancing 98 people in the classroom and an unlimited Zoom audience. Or this could be presented 100% Zoom. All of these choices will be dependent on the health situation.
