III. REPORTS

A. Director's Report

Director Mark Stephenson reported on the following:

- Academy audits are wrapping up. The reports will be on next month's agenda.
- Director Stephenson attended the IADLEST post director summit at FLETC. There were several issues discussed at the conference:
 - Entrance Exams: There were not a whole lot of other academies using the TABE test. However they are facing the same questions. The consensus was that the entrance testing, whether the physical or written test, should be used to determine that the applicant has the ability to complete the training with a reasonable chance of success and not to see if they can “do the job”. There were several TABE test alternatives mentioned including; Stennard & Associates, Pearson View, IO Solutions and Taligy.

- There were also some Cooper alternatives offered, including; Fit Force and agencies that turn Job Tasks into an obstacle course.
- Drug usage in the academy: This was a very varied topic. Montana sent out a survey regarding legal recreational marijuana use. The threads from the survey varies from, no use within 1 year of the academy and if you use while on duty or as a certified officer it is an automatic decertification to some states treating marijuana the same as alcohol.
- 36 of 48 post directors were in attendance at the conference..

B. Deputy Director’s Report

Deputy Director Gene Boner reported on the following:

- The 218th Basic has currently 40 students enrolled. Currently in week 7 of training.
- The following training was held at NLETC:
 - Technical Crash Investigation-September 23-27, 2024: 12 students enrolled.
 - In person Management-October 1-3, 2024: 44 students enrolled.

C. Nebraska State Patrol Training Academy

Captain Andy Ecklund reported on the following:

- Camp 70 is in week 14 with 9 recruits. Captain Ecklund reported on the courses being completed.

D. Crime Commission Report

Executive Director Bryan Tuma reported on the following:

- Expansion Project: DAS Buildings division received all of the construction bids and opened them on October 9, 2024. 5 contracting firms submitted bids. The numbers are still in review. It appears that the bids would allow completion of everything that was wanted for the project.

- There is a Crime Commission meeting set for October 25, 2024. There will be 4 cases up for decertification and there will be 2 cases dismissed. There is the possibility of 6 new cases being brought to the Council in the near future.
- There is a Jail Standards Board meeting October 18, 2024 in Hastings. The board will be touring the Adams County Correctional Center.
- Instructor hiring process: The Governor's office and the budget office have vetted the instructor pay and the additional instructors. Pay grade adjustments have been submitted to State Personnel. The current instructors will receive a wage adjustment and then the focus will be on getting the seven new instructors hired. Those positions are all covered under a labor contract. At this point the new instructors would have to be hired at the entry level position. Then you might be able to make an argument about pay equity to move them in line with the existing instructors. 2 additional administrative positions have also been requested for NLETC.
- The National Criminal Justice Association is the sounding board for states on federal funding issues and criminal justice issues. They have been contacted regarding a survey on criminal justice issues. This is in conjunction with the Burn-Jag Strategic Plan. A good response to the survey was received. A copy of the survey was available for the Council members to review. Crisis Intervention and Mental Health Issues are some of the key issues coming to the surface. Juvenile issues, gun violence and a few other issues were brought forward. The survey will serve as a baseline to develop a strategic plan. That would likely influence funding decisions. There is also some training objectives from the survey, specifically on the lines or mental health and crisis intervention.
- The Crime Commission is working on new legislative proposals. Executive Director Tuma is looking for feedback from the Council on removing the 11th grade equivalency language in statute and what affect that would have on application, entry and qualification issues. The decision needs to be made on whether to remove the language or address it through the Rules and Regulations instead.
- Executive Director Tuma met with Lt. Governor Kelly, Chief Morrow, Asst. Chief Stille, and Asst. Chief Dale from the Lincoln Police Department regarding the drug usage requirements. There will be an appeal coming to the Council for Lincoln Police Department for an individual who was denied entrance into the academy.

- A press release from the Governor's office came out on October 15th identifying Dr. Tom Janousek as the new director for the Division of Behavioral Health in the Department of Health and Human Services. Dr. Janousek stated, "We need more crisis and community based service options across the State. We need to address those barriers that make it difficult for individuals to engage the public behavioral health system." That speaks to the issues that law enforcement agencies have dealing with mental health issues across the State. Executive Director Tuma intends to open up some dialog with Dr. Janousek.

Mr. McCarthy asked if the other companies mentioned regarding testing gave an 11th grade standard. Director Stephenson stated that none of the four companies mentioned would confirm that standard.

Asst. Chief Stille asked about the deadline for any legislative proposals. Executive Director Tuma stated that he was still in discussions and hoped to have things ready in the next month or so.

Mr. Stolz commented that in 81-1410 states, "The Council shall adopt rules and regulations governing the minimum entrance requirements for all training academies. Until such rules and regulations become effective, the admission requirements existing on July 13th 2000 pertaining to the training center shall be applicable to all training academies except the Nebraska State Patrol. The rules and regulations shall establish admission criteria which shall include, but not be limited to; physical, mental and emotional fitness and disclosure of criminal history. The Council may also adopt priority system for admission to the training center and other training academies." And subsection 2; "Council may admit an applicant to any training academy for entry level law enforcement when the applicants meet the following criteria." The statute has a sunset provision. The rules became effective in 2005. The very first admission requirement would be the applicant is or will be a citizen of the United State prior to completion of certification. Chapter 8 was changed to say that you have to be a US Citizen prior to admission. Mr. Stolz' opinion is that the Council does not necessarily need a statute change. If the rule and regulation is changed to "a test approved by the Council' that should be good. There was a legislative bill that would have required all law enforcement officers to have a college degree and if you go to the legislature to address the issue there could be an issue. The Council has the authority under the statute to make the change to the rules and regulations. Once a test is decided on, the change could be made to Chapter 8.

Director Stephenson reiterated that there would be a period of time to validate a new test, if that was what the Council decided, so the use of the TABE test until that time would still be a test approved by the Council.

Mr. Stolz reported on the status of Title 79, Chapter 10. The changes were approved by the Council and the Crime Commission but have been held up at the Attorney General's office. The revisions to Chapter 10 have been rescinded.

Executive Director Tuma addressed a question regarding the number of continuing education hours. A previous discussion had suggested reducing the number from 32 hours to 20 hours. The smaller agencies are suggesting that the 32 hours is a burden on their officers. The suggestion was to maybe reduce to 28 hours. At this time Executive Director Tuma does not recommend making any changes. Mr. McCarthy asked if there was anything that NLETC or the Crime Commission was doing to help the smaller agencies meet the current number of hours of CE's. Executive Director Tuma responded that the agencies did have access to online training and with the hiring of new instructors there would be the option of additional regional training available that could help facilitate the training for the agencies.

IV. Old Business

V. New Business

A. Projected Enrollment and Basic Training Seat Allocation

Director Stephenson stated that according to Title 79, Chapter 6, the director needs to provide information to the Council regarding the projected enrollment and recommendations for seat allocations in the basic academy. Director Stephenson recommended that the seat allocation remain at 50 with 5 extras added, if necessary, up to week 5 of the training and that there will be no non-law applications accepted. This could change when the new instructors are hired.

Mr. McCarthy asked what the current capacity was in the dorms. Director Stephenson stated that currently 60 beds were available in the 2nd floor of the south dorm. If enrollment numbers were to increase after the new construction there might end up having to use motel rooms.

Sheriff Osmond asked what Director Stephenson was looking for in the motion. Director Stephenson said, "to keep the seat allocation at 50 with an additional 5 if needed and no non-law students."

MOTION

Sheriff Osmond: I'll make that motion, the motion based on Director Stephenson's recommendation. Chief Graham seconded the motion.

Deputy Director Gene Boner reported that attachment 1 provided in the agenda packet contained the changes to the basic curriculum. Deputy Director Boner highlighted the proposed changes to the curriculum. The total hours changed from 636 to 640 total hours starting in January 2025. There was some reallocations of some of the job tasks to better align with the course topics. Some minor wording, language and grammar changes were made to some objectives to make them correct with current practices. A Traffic Incident Management course was added to the curriculum. When a course is retired from the curriculum, the corresponding 3 digit number will also be retired to eliminate any confusion in the historical data. Deputy Director Boner thanked Melody Pebley and Christine Ericson for all of the work they put into the curriculum.

Mr. McCarthy asked if the 4 additional hours to the basic would increase the number of days of training. Deputy Director Boner responded that essentially it would be the same number of days. There might be some change depending on the number of holidays during the basic training.
