Diversion and Co-Occuring Programs

- If a diversion program makes a referral to a service provider who receives funding through Community-based Juvenile Services Aid (independent of the diversion program), the service provider must enter the case into the JCMS under their agency's program type.
 - The diversion program will also enter the referral as an objective if it is part of the diversion case plan.
- For all other referrals to outside service providers, the information will be entered by the diversion program as an objective.
 - The diversion program should work with the service provider to make sure the information is up to date and accurate.
